

Beverly D. Crone Restoration Area

This property is one hundred eleven acres of former landfill to be managed as a natural area and passive recreation site in the future. The site includes a gravel bike path, and is the nesting site for several species of endangered birds. As of early 2014, the St. Joseph County Board of Commissioners still manages the property and holds title to the land. Agreements to share the management role with the County Parks are scheduled to be completed in 2014.
